

LIFESTYLE

Our Heart's Desire - Investment Pieces To Cherish

By Jil Carrara

14.02.19

Valentine's Day is here, so to celebrate we're sharing some of the conscious investment pieces that reflect our true heart's desire.

We know that the best thing for the planet is to buy less 'stuff', but when you find something that makes your heart flutter it can be hard to resist the urge to splurge.

That's why we're loving these investment pieces that will not only last for a long time and can be passed down to future generations, but are also made consciously in the first place - win win.

(MORE: 12 WAYS TO LOVE OUR PLANET)

See below for our ultimate wishlist of gifts to treasure forever:

Shleep System Queen; £854.23 (1,543.60 AUD)

For the home, there is no better investment than really good sleep. Shleep's naturally luxurious Australian merino wool bedding is hypo-allergenic, anti-bacterial, breathable and moisture-removing to help you get the best night's sleep. Merino wool bedding has been proven to help you get to sustained deep sleep 25% faster and more effectively than anything else - and as it is also very durable and long-lasting, you can enjoy your new bedding (and the extra sleep that comes with it) for years to come.

If you're on the hunt for last minute Valentine's gifts, see our ideas here.